

We are looking for a Spanish/German/native English speaking real estate agent to our office in Palma!

Serneholt Estate is a Swedish real estate franchise chain with four branches from Estepona to Malaga in Costa del Sol and one branch in Alicante in Costa Blanca in addition to the new office in Palma.

We always have the client in focus and are working customer oriented in order to make it as easy as possible for our clients to buy a living abroad. An easy-to-navigate and informative website, clear ads on the largest housing web sites in Europe, visibility in social media and trained staff is what makes us a good partner both for buying and selling properties.

We continue to grow and are now searching for a real estate agent who will join our office in Palma de Mallorca.

As a real estate agent with us you take care of the client through the whole process of finding their dream home. You should be able to find and list new properties for you to sell, do the administration for those in our CRM systems and manage the full process to buy or sell a home from start to finish.

You need to be professional and enjoy building long-term relationships with the client's satisfaction in focus.

You need to be multilingual with minimum English in addition to Spanish or German. It's a big advantage to have additional languages and previous experience from similar services or assignments.
